The story of family treasures

Special bequests within your will can provide a home for your prized possessions. Some of the items listed on pages 72-74 may hold a story for your heirs. Use this space to tell it. For any item with high monetary or sentimental value (perhaps artwork, jewelry, antique furniture or handmade quilts), add information about how it was acquired and what it has meant to you. You also give a gift to your heirs when you let them know why you've entrusted them with a particular object and what you hope they'll do with it. Photocopy the next page, if you need more writing space.